1) Utilize the HST/JWST Template

2) Flush out Section 4. The Strategy

   Not to Exceed 3/4 of a page

   - Use a descriptive heading – headings should be declarative statements that convey the high-level point of the section.

   - Describe the data to be taken/simulations to be made. Be succinct (as this would normally get flushed out in more detail in the Technical Details section)
   - Provide an overview of how the data/simulations will be analyzed.
     – Analysis can include comparisons with other data in literature or archive.
   - Provide a clear statement about what the data products will be.
   - Include a Statement of the importance of these data products – i.e. that the "key component" (data of target/simulations from Section 3) will solve the problem outlined in Section 2.

   - Include appropriate references.

3) Include a figure that illustrates the analysis method/data product/solution. Figures can be cartoonish. Include a figure caption. Caption must end with a takeaway point about the figure (italicize or bold face text)
       – this figure should illustrate the ultimate goal of the proposal. You can say this explicitly in the caption.

4) Include Edits to Abstract, Section 1, Section 2 and Section 3 along with the rest of the outline for the remaining sections.

5) Update the Bibliography.
